

CITY COUNCIL
HELD MEETING

Petition For Sale of Corner of City
Park to Improvement Company
Granted.

MAJORITY OF VOTERS OF CITY

Signed Petition.—A Communication
From Civic League Regarding Park Improvement.

The city council held a lengthy session Friday evening and considered a number of matters of considerable importance. Numerous matters of less importance were also considered and some of them discussed at some length. Occasionally during the evening one or two of the councilmen showed so little regard for the extreme heat as to become excited and warm under the collar during the discussions.

During the meeting W. L. Johnson, representing the Seymour Public Improvement Company, brought to the council chamber a petition signed by a majority of the voters of the city, and which asked that the switch be removed from the west side of the park and that the city sell to the Improvement Co. a small section of the northeast corner of the city park for use of switch to be built to the plant of the Seymour Manufacturing Company. The petition was presented to the council and adopted by unanimous vote.

It was ordered that Judge Shea be asked to appoint three men to appraise the land to be sold.

A petition was received from property owners asking for improvement of north side of St. Louis Avenue between Chestnut and Walnut. It was signed by Jos. Shea, F. H. Green, J. G. Laupus and Anna and Charles Miles. They desire to grade and gravel street at their own expense under direction of city engineer. Petition was granted.

The clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for the construction of Vine street sewer. Bids must be submitted by 10 a. m. June 12 and will be considered by council at 7:30 p. m. on that date.

The S. Walnut street improvement ordinance was read the second time. No other action taken.

The $100 bond of officer L. P. Byrne was approved. It was signed by W. P. and A. H. Kasting, George Storey and H. R. Holtman.

The K. & L. of Security were granted privilege of using park for old fashioned basket dinner, July 4. The meeting will not interfere with other gatherings there on same date.

The Nazarene church was granted the use of park from July 17th to 27th for camp meeting.

Permission was given fire chief to buy hose to use in sprinkling street and washing fire wagon.

A ditch was ordered dug in alley near Poplar and Brown streets.

Clerk was ordered to notify railroad to put in tile on its property, formerly used by McDonald Stave Factory, the object to afford drainage for alley leading to property.

Henry Alwes was granted privilege of putting gutter and walk in front of property at the corner of Jackson and Buckeye streets.

Street commissioner was ordered to provide proper drainage on High street between Hauersperger's and Nichter's groceries.

Marshal was instructed to stop boys from throwing dirt into drinking fountain near Bush harness shop.

It was ordered that several bad places in brick streets be repaired. Also that grass be cut in city park.

Misch, Hodapp and Buse were appointed to find place at which to dump street cleanings.

Street commissioner was ordered to clean out tile near Ahlbrand factory. An overflow recently flooded part of basement at factory.

Chairman Hodapp of the park committee, asked for an appropriation of $200 to be used in beautifying and improving park. He believed a new stand should be built, more seats bought, cement foundations under cannons be constructed and other improvements made.

The park committee was instructed to report improvements made. The park committee was instructed to report improvements made. The park committee was instructed to report improvements made.

TWO BOARDS.

Held Meeting After Adjournment of Council.

Following the meeting of the council Friday evening the Board of Works and Board of Safety held meetings. The bad condition of the Jordan sanitary sewer in the second ward was discussed at the first meeting. Councilman Davison reported that it was stopped up in several places and numerous leaks had resulted. The chairman and engineer were instructed to make examination and make necessary recommendations for remedying conditions.

At the meeting of the Board of Safety, the marshal's report was read. It showed 15 arrests in March, 15 in April and a large number up to this time in May.

There was considerable discussion of plans for securing enforcement of all laws. It was decided that hereafter the rule must be followed which provides that at night one man be on duty at police headquarters all the time. A strict enforcement was ordered of the ordinances against riding wheels on sidewalks, auto speeding, unnecessary opening of exhausts on motor cycles and autos while running on the streets loitering, especially after midnight. Renewed attention to enforcement of curfew ordinance was considered.

As the marshal is the only officer on duty during the day, and he has a large field to cover, it was decided to buy a bicycle for his use.

THOMPSON TO HOLD HIS JOB

Was Added to Regular Police Force
By Council at Friday Night
Session.

AN ORDINANCE INTRODUCED

Providing For Increase of Salaries of Members of the Fire Department.

Philip Thompson has made good as a special police officer and as a reward he will go on the force as a regular officer.

At the council meeting Friday evening Councilman Sherman Day, after a short speech commending Thompson's work, moved that he be added to the regular force and the motion was adopted unanimously.

When Thompson was first employed it was for 30 days with the understanding that the time would be extended if his services proved satisfactory. His activity and aggressiveness in enforcing the law has won him the commendation of the public generally and also the support of the council. Recently it was reported that gamblers and others who did not approve of Thompson's aggressive work were trying to induce the council to chop off his official head. Some of the councilmen were approached but they declined to heed the appeals.

The proposition to increase the salaries of members of the fire department was again brought before the council Friday evening. Councilman Tasker presented an ordinance providing that the salary of each fireman shall be $660 a year, beginning June 1, an increase of $10 a month. It was voted that the ordinance take the regular course which means that it will be read at two more meetings before a vote is taken.

The ordinance was prepared Thursday and would have been presented that night had not the council adjourned, after allowing claims, to attend the commencement. That night the capture of the burglars occurred which it is figured does not hurt the cause of the firemen in their effort to secure a salary increase. However they are glad the ordinance had been prepared previous to the Thursday night incident.

In February an ordinance was passed providing for the increase of the firemen's salaries but the mayor vetoed it on the ground that the increase was illegal, he holding that the men were city officials. The firemen contend that they are merely city employees.

The question involved has bothered quite a number of councils in the state. The belief is expressed by the friends of the firemen that the mayor will not use his veto power if the salary ordinance is again passed.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

WHAT IS TRUE LOVE?

Love, which is the greatest thing in the world, often has been slandered by the proverb makers.

For instance—
"Love is blind."

Love is not blind. It is acute and open eyed. More than that, it has insight. It sees below the surface. It sees the real, the unseen. Where other eyes see deformity or weakness love sees strength and beauty. It does not judge by appearances. Whereof some of us should be glad, because, having neither comeliness nor grace, keen eyed love finds both. It sees that which is worth loving.

Another mistaken saying:
"True love is first love."

It may be. Often it is not. Usually first love is a sort of a mushroom growing sentiment. It is not happily termed "puppy" love. Ordinarily it does not last long. True love is an outgushing fountain that freely gives. It will last as long as it is appreciated. It is more than a mere sentiment. It is mature affection.

Another:
"True love never did run smooth."

But it does usually. Why not? True love is harmony. It concerns two persons. Where there is adaptation there is accord. If there be outside interference it will not last and cannot avail. A real proverb is that which says, "Love laughs at locksmiths." It is the false love that does not run smoothly. It cannot by the very nature of things. The rough ways of true love are mostly the invention of the romancers.

And still another:
"True love cannot die."

It can. It does die—daily. It may be wounded so that it bleeds at every pore. And it may be murdered outright. Mostly it is killed by neglect or indifference or lack of response or inattention. You can easily starve it to death. Like life itself, love grows and thrives by what it feeds on. And on the contrary, you may feed and pamper false love to surfeit, and it will surely die. The seeds of death are in it.

I submit that true love is so precious a thing it should not depend upon proverbs, even though the proverbs have never been challenged.

True love!
Without it earth would not be.
Without it there could be no heaven.

Liquor Poured Into River.

Muncie, Ind., May 26.—The police department of Muncie is now engaged in destroying beer confiscated in numerous raids on local "blind tigers." City Judge Frank Feely ordered the destruction of fifteen barrels of bottled beer and numerous cases, casks, bottles and jugs of whisky taken from local "blind tiger" operators. The liquor is being poured into White river and the bottles and cases destroyed.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., May 26.—Charles W. Lanvermeyer, aged thirty-seven, of Clay township, who has been confined to his bed for three years with paralysis, accidentally broke his left leg near the knee. He was attempting to strike a fly that was bothering him, when he fell to the floor. It may be necessary to amputate the leg.

Greenfield, Ind., May 26.—The Holiday family of Wilkinson has employed attorneys to defend John Holiday, who shot his wife twice while she was consulting a lawyer in this city in regard to filing a suit for divorce. Mrs. Holiday is expected to recover from her wounds.

Third Unidentified Victim.

Lafayette, Ind., May 26.—With the head and both arms severed and the trunk badly mutilated, the body of a man was found on the Monon railroad track one mile south of this city. This is the third unidentified man who has been killed by trains in the same vicinity in the last few weeks.

Sentenced For Life.

South Bend, Ind., May 26.—Grant Winrott was convicted in the circuit court of the murder of his wife April 25 and sentenced to life imprisonment. Winrott, who is an ex-convict, murdered his wife in a quarrel over the custody of their child.

Boy Drowned in Harbor.

The homestead of Paul Revere has been badly damaged by fire.

David L. Bruce-Brown, winner of the 1910 Grand Prize race at Savannah, Nov. 12, 1910. He has entered a monster Fiat in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Memorial Day, May 30.

LYTLE BACK IN GAME

DEAN OF AMERICAN AUTO DRIVERS TO RACE THIS YEAR.

Joins Field of Forty Starters in 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis Next Memorial Day.

Gathering in one by one the world's premier motor racing pilots, the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day has assumed greater proportions than any other race car in the history of automobile contests. There is but one great driver left on American soil who is not nominated to drive a car in this long classic—"Wild Bob" Burman, the successor of Barney Oldfield. Burman will be in the race—his word has been given.

This wonderful condition is made possible by the entry of Herb Lytle, the daddy of them all, dean of American drivers, in an Apperson Jack Rabbit. The entry was made by Lytle himself as owner, and the association of his name with the veteran racing car from Kokomo makes the roster of the great race look natural to the older fans of the motor racing sport.

Along with the entry of Lytle came the entry of two Fal cars from Chicago. J. E. Gelhaw and W. H. Pearce were nominated as wheelmen for these two. They are the 1910 team drivers for the Fal. The former won the classic Coca Cola trophy at Atlanta last November, and the latter was the winner of the G. & J. Trophy race at the Indianapolis brick track last July. They had great success with the Fal cars in the past year and are looking forward to the winning of new laurels during 1911.

The driving history of veteran Herb Lytle reads like an interesting account of the greatest events in the annals of motordom. The story of his career starts way back in 1895, when he participated in the Cosmopolitan race in New York city and later, in 1906, went to Europe in the London to Brighton race. Five of the great Vanderbilt Cup races have seen Lytle in the running and he has performed notably in most of them. The Apperson is Lytle's old love and his coming back to it is one of the notable features of the season. In making his entry, Herb said:

"I've gone back to the car which I had the greatest success with, and I'm going to use parts of the old car in making this new one. I shall take the stock motor, which is as fast as they are built anywhere, and use parts of the old chassis which made the other Apperson Jack Rabbit famous. I know now that the car will travel better than 100 miles an hour without trouble, and believe that I have taken the best mount I could have for the race.

"While I was in Europe I had the offer of four or five of the best foreign cars, but I think that the American cars can outrun the machines sent from the other side, so I'll take the Apperson this time."

Lytle will have his car ready for tuning within a few weeks. The motor which he will use is the same as the one which made the fastest lap in the Lowell road race of 1909 and has turned off a mile on the road in :44 2-5. It has five and one-half inch stroke and five and three-quarters inches bore, with a piston displacement of 571, being rated at fifty-horse power.

The total list of entries for the race now stand at thirty-eight, by far the largest number of cars ever entered in any race.

MILE TRACK CHAMPION BUSY.

One of the busiest men engaged in the hazardous business of racing motor cars is Ralph DePalma, the mile track champion of 1910. DePalma is racing in the west but will come to Indianapolis for the 500 mile race next Memorial Day.

BLOOD TELLS!

Text, "Visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children."—Exodus xx, 5.

The longer I live the more I believe in blood—good blood, bad blood; humble blood, proud blood; honest blood, thieving blood; heroic blood, cowardly blood. The tendency may skip a generation or two; then out it comes. I know a little fellow who doesn't look like his father or mother—both could deny him easily—but stand him under the portrait of his Revolutionary great-grandfather and you are startled by the resemblance. There's a law written in your blood that determines your height, weight and girth. It tells the very form of your toes and shape of your fingers, color of your hair, brilliance of your eye, quickness of your step and tone of your voice. We call it heredity. When you've said that you've said nearly all you know. You can't locate it. No man can say "Lo, here!" or "Lo, there!" We hear of royal blood and common blood, patrician blood and plebeian blood, but the biologist with his microscope knows no such things. He simply finds red and white corpuscles. Yet we know we are the heirs of the ages. Past generations are living in our veins. "Man is an omnibus in which his ancestors ride."

"What's Born in the Bone"—Life is a loom. "We are hit and miss rag carpet, made up of the various yarns of our forefathers and foremothers, woven in the loom of heredity by the weaver Time with a warp of our own individuality." Blood tells! Four seeds dropped into same soil, same sun, same dew, same air, same care—one a lily to please the eye, one a crimson rose to please the nostril, one an apple to please the taste, one a thorn to prick the touch. Same soil, rain, heat, moisture, but all different. Like begets like. When you say of a girl, "How she favors her grandmothers!" or of your boy, "He's a chip off the old block," or you say, "Her mother had consumption," "His father drank himself to death," you are simply saying, "Blood tells!" "Eclipse," the racer, sired 334 racers, which won $800,000. Herod sired 467, which won over $1,000,000. Only another way of saying "Blood tells" with horses. If blood makes one horse worth $25 and another $25,000 it's time we began to study man blood. We have horse shows, dog shows, chicken shows. The crowd attends. Newspapers give columns of space. Society approves. A baby show is a matter for ridicule. Society with a poodle on its lap blushes, looks shocked, thinks it isn't more than half decent.

Men Versus Sheep.

A gardener studies laws of heredity when he plants a cabbage head. Isn't a human head as interesting as a cabbage head? More attention is given to improve the strain of the hen that lays the egg than the child that eats it. There is more said and written about how to improve the wool on the back of the sheep than to improve the man who wears it when woven. Christ said, "How much better is a man than a sheep!" Is not a man better than a cow? It might be as well for our women's clubs to study the influence of the notorious Luke family with its generations of criminals and paupers and the Jonathan Edwards family with its generations of learning and culture as the influence of Ibsen or Browning. One of the saddest pages of literature is in Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," where the little girl Grizel, daughter of the painted lady, finds out there's a taint in her blood and rushes to the doctor crying: "The bad thing that's in my blood. Oh, please cut it out! I shan't scream! I promise not to scream." He tells her it can't be cut out; she must bear it all ways. It's indescribably awful. Young man, see that your child doesn't rise after you screaming, "There's something bad in my blood!" Don't damn your innocent children.

Are We Fated For Ill?

The world is stuffed with drugs. The pantry shelf is lined with medicine bottles. Sanitariums spring up like toadstools after a shower. Every pigeon, every butterfly, looks up and says, "How perfect are thy works, O Lord of hosts!" Man coughs apologetically and asks, "Who hath sinned, this man or his father?" Any hope? Yes! Man has two creators, God and himself. Heredity and environment do not decide your destiny. How was Eden for environment? Who were the ancestors of Luther, Lincoln and Shakespeare? Know anything of the parentage of Moses or Paul? Ever hear of John Bunyan, Jerry McAuley, John G. Gough? And you and I? Mixture of good and evil—neither sheep nor goat, half virtuous, half vicious? All right. Even the half breed has a chance to make good. No man ever committed a sin that he did not feel afterward that he need not have done it; it could have been otherwise. Any man or woman in your town who can compel you to sin? No, by the Eternal! Any dead ancestor compel you? The glory of will power is that we can stand, like Ajax defying the lightning, and say, "Not all the blood of my ancestors from Adam down to my father can compel me to do something I do not will to." Your boat's on the stream. Will you drift or row? Honor and fame from no condition rise. Act well your part. There all the honor lies.

The dragon fly's appetite is never satisfied, although that amazing insect, with its 50,000 microscopic eyes, eats continuously from daylight until dark, capturing thousands upon thousands of flies and other noxious insects during the day. But the digestive apparatus of the dragon fly is such that all it takes into its long stomach is digested instantly.

The Modern Wash-day

Time was when The Wash was a weekly nightmare, wash-day dinner a by-word.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove has changed all that. Once the wash-boiler is on the stove, it leaves you free to attend to the dinner or any other work.

You can move a New Perfection where you please and light it in a moment. It requires no attention after that. A single gallon of oil lasts all three burners seven hours or more. No coal or wood to carry; no fire to feed; no soot nor ashes. It keeps a kitchen or laundry cool and clean. It cooks to perfection, with the least trouble and expense.

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS

Declines to Conduct Investigation of Postoffice Department.

Washington, May 27.—Louis D. Brandeis, the Boston lawyer, invited to conduct the inquiry by a house committee into the affairs of the postoffice department, has declined to serve. Mr. Brandeis declared that an investigation, such as is proposed, would be of no avail. It should be undertaken, he said, by a joint committee appointed by both houses of congress, endowed with authority to recommend changes in the laws and methods of the postal service.

GOT IT DOWN TO LOWEST FIGURE

New Subsistence Record At Indiana Reformatory.

COST OF FEEDING CONVICTS

Major Peyton, Superintendent, Comments on Figures Heretofore Published, Showing That Cost of Feeding Inmates of Reformatory is Practically the Lowest of Any Institution of Its Kind.

Jeffersonville, Ind., May 27.—According to a statement made by Major David C. Peyton, general superintendent, the cost of feeding the inmates of the Indiana reformatory is even lower than the figures heretofore published, being practically the lowest of any institution of the kind.

The figures, 11.64 cents per diem, per capita, which appear in the annual report for the last fiscal year, included the cost of the officers' kitchen and dining room, the home of the general superintendent and the board's dining room. The per capita cost for the inmates' kitchen and dining room alone is 10.64 cents, which is 4-100ths of a cent a day cheaper than the figures for the state prison at Michigan City.

Last month's subsistence bill was less than this figure, with a per capita per diem of 9.81 cents in the inmates' kitchen and dining room.

Superintendent of the Indiana Reformatory at Jeffersonville.

BAD FEELING OVER AN OLD LOVE AFFAIR

Leads to a Double Tragedy In Hendricks County.

Clayton, Ind., May 27.—Oliver Wilhoit, a constable from Danville, was shot and killed by Harvey Moon, who then went across fields a quarter of a mile away to the home of George Buldock and shot Mrs. Buldock, who was standing in the kitchen with her little five-year-old daughter. The bullet passed through the heart, killing her instantly. Mrs. Buldock was Moon's cousin. Wilhoit had a writ of ejectment for Moon and was at the latter's home removing the furniture when he attacked the constable. Moon obtained possession of Wilhoit's revolver during the scuffle and turned it on its owner, firing three shots. All took effect.

The motive for the crimes seems to have been bad feeling aroused by a love affair of several years' standing. Moon was in love with Mrs. Buldock's sister, and his attentions were opposed by Mrs. Buldock.

Moon was unmarried and lived in a little two-room house alone. He was arrested an hour after the shooting. No resistance was offered and he was taken to Danville and placed in jail. The only witness of the shooting of Mrs. Buldock was her little daughter, and she went about half a mile across a field and reported to her father that "Mamma had been shot by Uncle Harvey."

Moon has been a "terror" to the neighborhood, and especially to relatives, and he had threatened a number of times to "get them."

DEPOSED MINISTER IS HEART BROKEN

Dr. Grant Takes Heresy Finding to Heart.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 27.—By careful missionary work among the 900 commissioners, leaders of the Presbyterian general assembly kept down a demonstration of any kind when the judicial commission made official announcement of finding Dr. William D. Grant of the Northumberland (Pa.) presbytery guilty of heresy. Instead of the expected strife for days, as feared by the men at the head of affairs, prayerful silence ensued with the adoption of the court's decision, which carried with it recommendation of lenity and suspension from the exercise of his office of the ministry if he makes "renunciation of his errors and satisfies his own presbytery that he will no longer propagate such teachings."

Dr. Grant was heartbroken over the unexpected decision, which reverses that given by the Northumberland presbytery some time ago. He said: "I shall clearly state my views to my own presbytery when the proper time comes. I am just beginning to realize the terrible truth of the commission's verdict. There is no enmity in my heart for them. They did their duty as they saw it, the same as I have always tried to do in ministering to my charge. My regret for the painful affair is entirely sincere. God and my friends are with me in their sympathy."

FINED THE MONON

Railroad Was Guilty of Violating the Hours of Employment Law.

Indianapolis, May 27.—Judgments totalling $1,350 have been rendered against the Monon railroad by Judge Anderson in federal court on complaint of District Attorney Miller that the company in November and December, 1909, and June, 1910, had violated the federal law against keeping telegraph operators on duty for more than nine hours consecutively. The two complaints against the company charged forty violations of the law at Monon, Delphi, Rensselaer and South Hammond. A penalty of $200 on the first paragraph of each action was imposed and a penalty of $25 on each of the other offenses charged.

The Monon in its answer admitted that the charges were true.

Original Plans For Terre Haute's Centennial Fell Through.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 27.—Plans for the celebration of the centennial of the founding of Fort Harrison have been abandoned by the local committee on arrangements, and if President Taft stops in Terre Haute, new arrangements for entertaining him will have to be made.

The Sons of the Revolution announced their intention of celebrating the centennial of the founding of the fort last year, and other organizations expressed a desire to join in the movement. The Commercial club invited President Taft to attend, but plans for the joint celebration have failed. Some kind of a program will be arranged if President Taft accepts the invitation.

DIAZ SETS SAIL FOR SANTANDER

Will Spend the Best of His Days In Spain.

TAKES HIS FAMILY WITH HIM

A Special Train Was Provided For the Deposed President, Who Left For Vera Cruz, Whence He Will Sail For Havana, From Which Port He Will Take Passage to His New Home in Santander.

Mexico City, May 27.—To sail at once for Europe, General Porfirio Diaz, who resigned the presidency of Mexico Thursday, left for Vera Cruz yesterday. The ex-president's party included his wife and children, a number of men prominent in the fallen administration, and officials of the National railway of Mexico.

The railway company provided a special train for the general and his party. Today General Diaz, his wife and family and probably some of the retiring officials who accompanied him, will board the steamship Ypirango and sail immediately for Havana. At Havana the party will take passage and sail for Santander, Spain, where it is said that General Diaz will spend the rest of his days.

Mexico's New President.

Provisional President De La Barra now occupies the chair which for the last thirty years has been virtually the throne of General Diaz. Senor De La Barra was sworn into office at noon yesterday, and he will serve as ruler of the republic until the revolutionists can get their administration into working order and hold a general election. This will be the first election in which the voters will have a chance to express genuinely their preference as to who shall govern them.

SOCIALIST RULE

Lower California to Be So Dominated if Plans Work Out.

San Diego, Cal., May 27.—That General Rhys Pryce and the men of his command, acting under instructions of the revolutionary junta at Los Angeles, will undertake the establishment of an independent government in Lower California, to be dominated by Socialists, is evident now. When General Pryce and his force captured Tia Juana he had less than 200 men. Now he has 1,000, probably, three-fourths Americans, and a large number of them beardless youths bent on adventure.

So confident is General Pryce since he has gained 800 recruits that one of the biggest battles since the revolution started will follow the arrival of Governor Viljoen's force sent to Lower California to retake Tia Juana.

Pryce and his men believe that because of chaotic internal conditions in Mexico, that the government will not be able to war with them for Lower California. They believe a decisive defeat of the force sent against them will leave them in undisputed possession.

THE MODEST MADERO

Says He Cannot Personally Announce Candidacy For High Office.

El Paso, May 27.—Francisco I. Madero has issued a manifesto renouncing the title of president of the provisional government. He expresses the utmost confidence in the good faith of Francisco De La Barra while he holds the office of temporary president of Mexico, and says the insurgent troops are at the disposal of De La Barra in restoring peace in Mexico. Madero was asked if he would announce his candidacy for the presidency of Mexico, and he said he would not, that such a thing was not considered proper in his country, but his friends would advance his name at the proper time.

The legislature of Chihuahua has been summoned by Miguel Ahumada, governor, who will resign and present the name of Abram Gonzales, provisional governor for the position. No trouble has been reported regarding installing insurgent governors in any state other than Coahuila. There Madero ordered his soldiers to take the capital.

RESIGNATION RUMOR PURSUING LORIMER

Generally Believed Blonde Boss
Will Give Up.

Washington, May 27.—Among senators there is a widespread belief that Senator William Lorimer will try to forestall a second investigation of the charges of corruption in connection with his election by resigning. Mr. Lorimer is in Chicago. No one in authority to speak for him appeared to say what he will do. But there is a pretty well settled conviction in the senate that if the senator from Illinois submits his title to his seat in the senate to the second test of an investigation, he will forfeit the title.

The sentiment in favor of a reopening of the Lorimer case is now practically unanimous. It is predicted that there will not be a single vote in opposition to ordering a second investigation. A report from the second investigation will not be made to the senate, in all probability, until it meets in December. Senator Lorimer's chances of retaining his seat are jeopardized not only by the new evidence that has turned up, but by the fact that the senate personnel has materially changed since the former vote vindicating him was taken. Today, upon the record of the Lorimer case as submitted after the first investigation, the senator would be ousted. But the second investigation is certain to make some of Mr. Lorimer's close friends and political managers uncomfortable.

General Berteaux's Funeral.

Paris, May 27.—With imposing public ceremonies such as France has not seen since the funeral of Victor Hugo, Minister of War Henri Maurice Berteaux was buried Friday. Everywhere were signs of mourning. General Francois Goiran has accepted the post of minister of war, made vacant by Berteaux's death.

the Effect of Sport on Character.

Every normal boy loves outdoor sport. It is part and parcel of his life—training for his muscles, health for his mind, outlet for his turbulent energy, relief for his high-strung nerves. As every part of life is part of education, and as the most absorbing parts of education are the most telling, and as no part of a boy's life is more absorbing than outdoor life, it follows that a boy's character as a sportsman has an almost irresistible bearing on his character as a man.—Dean Briggs of Harvard, in The Youth's Companion.

ARMY IN TEXAS IN SPLENDID SHAPE. YAQUIS' PART IN INSURRECTION

Reports From Troopers
Please Secretary Dickinson and Major
General Wood

Indian, Many Times Reported Exterminated,
Is a First Class
Fightin' Man

MAJOR GENERAL LEONARD WOOD, chief of staff, U. S. A., constantly in touch with the operations of the maneuver division of the army now in Texas, commenting on the official and unofficial reports which have reached him said, "It is evident that the experience which the American troops have gained in recent years in the movements to and from the Philippines has taught them how to move and move quickly." The official records show how quickly some of the troops moved after the YAQUI Indians to the number of several thousands are in the field helping the insurgents in their fight against the established government of Mexico, according to an official report received at San Antonio.

A number of places in Sonora have been raided by the Indians. The Yaquis' knowledge of the mountain country of Sonora and their experience in fighting the federal troops make them among the most dangerous foes with whom the Diaz government has to deal.

"Exterminating" the Yaqui Indians has been a favorite pastime with the established government of Mexico ever since the time of Cortes, and, though thousands of these people have been shot and thousands more sent to die on the plantations and in the swamps of Tehuantepec and Yucatan, there are still enough able-bodied Yaquis left to cause considerable trouble.

Insuring has been the vocation of every Yaqui, man, woman or child.

orders for mobilization were issued from the war department on the afternoon of March 6. The Tenth infantry, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., entrained within eighteen hours after receiving orders. The troops from Fort Myer, Va., being the Third field artillery, traveling a distance of 1,715 miles to San Antonio, were carried thither at a rate of twenty-eight miles an hour and were on the scene in fifty-two hours.

A Remarkable Achievement.

"The record is a remarkable one," Secretary Dickinson said. "The railroads had no opportunity whatever to prepare for the movement. Had notice been given them it would materially have shortened the time."

"What delays are involved," said General Wood, "were occasioned by the fact that the department gave no preliminary warning to the railroads. The troops were moved under conditions that may be considered as being as disadvantageous as possible. The orders to move came out of an absolutely clear sky."

"The manner in which the orders of the president were carried out shows the advantage of having a well worked out plan for mobilization. The maneuvers as far as they have gone make it clear that there has been a great improvement in methods since 1898 and that so far as the regular army is concerned we took to heart the lessons learned then and profited by them."

Satisfaction In Everything.

The troops now assembled, officers and men, number 17,410, of whom 11,949 are in the maneuver division, those to be deducted consisting of the provisional brigade at San Diego, the separate brigade at Galveston and the cavalry troops previously assigned to guard the border. According to the reports of General William H. Carter from the headquarters of the maneuver division at San Antonio, "the whole movement has produced nothing but satisfaction as a military situation."

TWENTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY PREPARING BEDS.

since long before the present rebellion broke out in Mexico. Rebellion and warfare seem to be inborn traits of the Yaquis, carefully cultivated from one generation to the next. That it is right to shed the blood of a Mexican official or soldier is a Yaqui tradition, and it is one that has been carefully lived up to.

Yaquis Weren't All Dead.

In September, 1899, Don Rafael Ruiz, a rich landowner of Hermosillo, Sonora, near the Yaqui country, declared:

"Within two months there will not be alive in Mexico a Yaqui bearing arms. The Yaquis will be driven out of their mountains to the sea, where they must surrender or die."

Nine years later, in September, 1908, there were enough Yaquis alive and bearing arms to murder Don Rafael on the road between Hermosillo and Ures.

The trouble between the Yaquis and the government is primarily that the Yaquis want to be independent instead of living in the semi-serfdom of the Mexican peon. They live in the southern part of the state of Sonora. Sonora is a rich mining country, and it was inconvenient to have the Yaquis claiming the ground as their own merely because they had lived on it for a few hundred years.

Like the Sudanese natives of whom Kipling wrote, the Yaquis may have been "poor, benighted 'nathen," but they were and are certainly "first class fightin' men."

One of the most remarkable proofs of the Yaquis' endurance is their running ability. Travelers who have lived in Sonora say that it is not an uncommon thing for one of these Indians to run ten miles an hour for four hours. In the time of the Spanish rule these Indians often acted as couriers, and it is said that the Spanish governor of Mexico used to get fish from the coast as fresh as President Diaz is able to procure today by the somewhat less sure railroad system of Mexico.

Watch Your Kidneys.

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor. Allen Campbell, 322 S. Morton St., Bloomington, Ind., says: "My kidneys and bladder caused me a great deal of trouble for some time. My back pained me a great deal. There was a dull bearing down pain in my bladder and I felt all out of sorts. Foley Kidney Pills helped me from the start. The backache and pain in my bladder left and my kidney action became normal and regular. Foley Kidney Pills have certainly done wonders for me and I gladly recommend their use." A. J. Pellens.

His Wonderful Record.

"He never inherited an office and never ran for one," says a Georgia memorialist. "Once or twice he tried to get him to stand for the legislature, and even congress had been mentioned to him, but he never weakened. He had been in Washington for weeks at a time, but never took a snapshot of the White House or sent his card to a congressman. And to the people he was plain 'Mr.' to the last. No man ever colonized or generalized him. In a community of captains and colonels he was a simple wonder."—Atlanta Constitution

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You will find Chamberlain's Liniment wonderfully effective. One application will convince you of its merits. Try it. For sale by all Dealers.

The Madness of Somnambulism.

A curious case of madness is mentioned in Dr. T. S. Clouston's book on "Unsoundness of Mind." "I knew a man," he says, "who, when in the somnambulist condition, mistaking his child, who was sleeping in the cradle, for a wild beast, took up a poker and killed her instantaneously. He was unsound in mind only when asleep."

For soreness of the muscles whether induced by violent exercise or injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by all Dealers.

Seeing and Seizing.

"Don't you suppose," said a member of the police force, "that a policeman knows a rogue when he sees him?" "No doubt," was the reply, "but the trouble is that he does not seize a rogue when he knows him."—Christian Register.

J. M. Howell, a popular druggist of Greensburg, Ky., says, "We use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our own household and know it is excellent." For sale by all Dealers.

His Conundrums.

"Pop, tell me some conundrums." "Conundrums? Why, I don't know any conundrums, my son?" "Oh, yes, you do! I heard mother tell Aunt Mary the other day that you keep her guessing most of the time."—Puck.

Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try it. For sale by all Dealers.

He Put Up.

"Which is proper," inquired the particular new arrival, "to say 'stop at a hotel' or 'put up at a hotel'?" "Both," replied the obliging register clerk. "But you must put up at this hotel before you can stop at it."—Browning's Magazine.

OUTING SWEATER.

Long Ones Especially Smart For Automobileing and Yachting.

It is not alone to the fashionable automobilist or yachtsman that one of these long sweaters would be useful. The summer vacationist who can afford one should include it in her outfit, for in the country its usefulness will be great. There the difference between the temperature of the morning and evening is apt to be marked, and those who like to sit out to watch the moon rise or stroll through dew wet lanes need to be cozily wrapped up. This model, with its ample length, is admirable for a day spent on the water or a late drive. There are often cool wet days when a sweater is as useful as a mackintosh. The velvet collar and cuffs and the velvet band upon the pockets are particularly fetching and up to date touches.

AUTOMOBILE SWEATER.

BOW BACKED SETTLE.

A Quaint Revival Suitable For Use on the Summer Porch.

Cottage furniture, as it is called, is very popular at present, and we are being treated to many quaint revivals in this line. The bow backed settle illustrated here is a novel but comfortable design, suitable either for the hall or the veranda. It is a light enough piece of furniture to be easily moved from place to place in conformity with the mood of the moment or the variation in the position of the sun. With a few gay pillows in its roomy arms it makes quite an attractive appearance. Mission furniture and most of the art craft specimens are built so substantially that they cannot easily be transferred from place to place by the average woman, and even on the summer porch there are hours when the services of a man are not available. Porch furniture of willow or bamboo is very nice, but the willow furniture has its disadvantages too. The colored specimens are apt to fade, and some of it warps with the weather.

PORCH SETTLE.

Boiled Custard.

When making boiled custard it is often puzzling to know when it is ready, for if boiled too long it will curdle and spoil. Take out the spoon after stirring it round and round, and if the custard turns back instead of going the way you have been stirring it is quite ready and should be taken off the fire immediately.

About the House.

Collars and cuffs will never blister if starched on the right side. Ginger poultices are as efficacious as mustard and will not blister. They should be made in the same way.

Choose lamp wicks that are soft and loosely woven. Soak them in vinegar and dry thoroughly before using them. When hanging out clothes hang skirts by the bands, nightdresses by the shoulders and stockings by the toes.

When washing woollens, especially stockings, shake thoroughly to get rid of the dust before putting them into the water.

Clean enameled saucepans with a rag dipped in powdered pumice stone after they have been well boiled out and they will look like new.

shines so quickly.

CUT IT OUT!

Heroic treatment for a corn, which has no right to be on the human toe, is to open your handy old corn razor and cut it out.

There are bad habits and practices which people ought to cut out, though no razor is needed for the amputating process. For instance, it is a bad practice to get in the habit of buying things through Mail Order concerns when you can buy to better advantage—the mutual advantage of yourself and your neighbor—at the stores in your own town.

If you have acquired this habit take the Razor of Resolution, hone it on the hone of Mutual Interests, strop it on the strop of Town Improvement and—

CHARMING NEW ENGLAND HOME.

Design 865 B, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This design has much individuality and is widely admired. It makes a splendid eight room house, the rooms being well laid out and the house easy to care for. There is an attractive open fireplace in the living room and Dutch window in the dining room for flowers. On the second story are four good chambers, large closets and a good sized bathroom, with attic space above. Rooms are all light and airy. The first story can be finished in birch, oak or Washington fir and the second story pine to enamel. Size of house 30 by 26 feet. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3,300.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 865 B for $25.

Without doubt, the most popular waists worn with suits this season are those of veiling materials. They are generally spoken of as chiffon waists, this term being used to include chiffon cloth, marquisette and the popular voile nion. Such a waist is usually made over plain or Persian silk. The latter does not call for additional trimming and looks best when the outside is plain or made with only a few tucks.

The veiling waist or over-blouse is a joy to the needlewoman who is fond of beading or embroidery. The latter is used a great deal on handsome gowns and waists, though beading is newer and is the craze just now. Frequently the two are combined on the same waist.

The beads used for this work are of wood and are wonderfully light in weight. They are of dull finish and can be had in any color. Black and dark blue chiffon waists are made very smart by combining dull blue and red beads with embroidery in a conventional design. Such a trimming may encircle the round neck, extend down the shoulders and on to the sleeves.

Many of these over-blouse waists have round Dutch necks, and will enjoy a great vogue this season especially when the coat is discarded. Brilliant tones of emerald green, royal blue and purple are introduced to enliven somber blouses but they are veiled with gauze which softens them considerably.

In PICTORIAL REVIEW WAIST PATTERN No. 3902 we have a style that is particularly suitable for the pretty bordered foulards, chailis and silks that are now so fashionable. The new fancy enameled buttons can be used on this waist as shown in the illustration. The color in these buttons should harmonize with those in the border of the material. The sleeve-in-one-with-the-body idea is another excellent feature that has become very popular. The design is also a very good one for combining two or more materials. If plain fabrics are used the effective beading can be introduced instead of the border. This pattern comes in sizes 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches bust measure. Size 26, as illustrated, requires 4 yards of 36 inch material for guimpe.

Everybody has been wondering when the plaited skirt would come in again. Now that it has appeared it may not be recognized under that very familiar name. It has plaits, to be sure, and they give the necessary width for comfortable walking, and are so cleverly arranged that they do not change the straight up-and-down look of the figure. The new skirts are sane and sensible in design and are not extreme. Many of them have plaits at the seams but stitching keeps these flat until, at flounce depth they are left free. Even with plaits the skirt is in scant lines. Some of the best models have only a plait at each side of the front and back gore which is not noticeable except when walking. There is much to commend in these skirts as they are light in weight, short enough to escape the ground and the high waistline is comfortable. Semi-rough cloth in homespun, tweed and basket weaves are in the height of style for skirts of this character.

The six-gored skirt shown in PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3896 is an attractive model. A plaited flounce extends across the two side gores of the skirt while the front and back are plain, the closing being made at the left of the center back. Sizes are 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches waist measure and sizes 26 requires 3/4 yards of 54 inch material.

Patterns for the above illustrations including cutting and construction guides are 15 cents each number.

CHAPTER XX.

THE SYLLABLE OF DOOM.

RECESS followed. Clifton and I had the opportunity of exchanging a few words. He was voluble; I was reticent. "He has laid him open to attack on every side. Fox has but to follow his lead and the thing is done. Poor Arthur may be guilty, but he certainly should have every chance a careful lawyer could give him. I have never thought much of Moffat myself. He wins his cases, but—" "He will win this," I muttered. Clifton started, looked at me very closely for a minute, paled a little—I fear that I was very pale myself—but did not ask the question rising to his lips.

"There is method in the madness of a man like that," I pursued with a gloom I could not entirely conceal. "He has come upon some evidence which he has not even communicated to his client. At least, I fear so. We must be prepared for any untoward event."

"Elwood," said Clifton, "you've not been quite open with me."

"You have a right to reproach me," said I, "but not wholly. I did not deceive you in essentials. You may still believe me as guiltless of Adelaide's violent death as a man can be who drove her and hers into misery which death alone could end."

"YOU'VE NOT BEEN QUITE OPEN WITH ME."

"I will believe it," he muttered; "I must." And he dropped the subject, as he made me see, forever.

I drew a deep breath of relief. I had come very near to revealing my secret.

When we returned to the courtroom we found it already packed with a very subdued and breathless crowd. It differed somewhat from the one which had faced us in the morning, but Ella and her parents were there and many others of the acknowledged friends of the accused and his family.

As he took the witness chair and prepared to meet the cross examination of the district attorney a solemn hush settled upon the room.

"Was the visit you made to the wine vault on the evening of the 2d of December the first one you had ever paid there?" asked Mr. Fox.

"No; I had been there once before. But I always paid for my depredations," he added proudly.

"Then you knew the way?"

"Perfectly."

"And the lock?"

"Sufficiently well to open it without difficulty."

"How long do you think you were in entering the house and procuring these bottles?"

"I cannot say. I have no means of knowing. I never thought of looking at my watch."

"But you know when you left the clubhouse to go back?"

"Only by this—it had not yet begun to snow. I'm told that the first flakes fell that night at ten minutes to 11. I was on the golf links when this happened."

Mr. Fox asked: "Whereabouts on the golf links? They extend for some distance, you remember."

"They are 600 yards across from first tee to the third hole, which is the nearest one to Cuthbert road," Arthur particularized. "I was—no, I can't tell you just where I was at that moment. It was a good way from the house."

The snow came on very fiercely. For a little while I could not see my way.

"How not see your way?"

"The snow flew into my eyes."

"Crossing the links?"

"Yes, sir; crossing the links."

"But the storm came from the west. It should have beaten against your back."

"Back or front, it bothered me. I could not get on as fast as I wished."

Mr. Fox cast a look at the jury. Did they remember the testimony of the landlord that Mr. Cumberland's coat was as thickly plastered with snow on the front as it had been on the back? He seemed to gather that they did, for he went on at once to say:

"You are accustomed to the links? You have crossed them often?"

"Yes; I play golf there all summer."

"I'm not alluding to the times when you play. I mean to ask whether or not you had ever before crossed them directly to Cuthbert road?"

"Yes, I had."

"In a storm?"

"No, not in a storm."

"How long did it take you that time to reach Cuthbert road from the Whispering Pines?"

Mr. Moffat bounded to his feet, but the prisoner had answered before he could speak.

"Just fifteen minutes."

"How came you to know the time so exactly?"

"Because that day I did look at my watch. I had an engagement in the lower town and had only twenty minutes in which to keep it. I was on time."

Honest at the core. This boy was growing rapidly in my favor. But this frank but unwise answer was not pleasing to his counsel, who would have advised, no doubt, a more general and less precise reply. However, it had been made, and Moffat was not a man to cry over spilled milk. He did not even wince when the district attorney proceeded to elicit from the prisoner that he was a good walker.

Now, as the storm that night had been at his back and he was in a hurry to reach his destination it was evidently incumbent upon him to explain how he had managed to use up the intervening time of forty minutes before entering the hotel at 11:30.

"Did you stop in the midst of the storm to take a drink?" asked the district attorney.

As the testimony of the landlord in Cuthbert road had been explicit as to the fact of his having himself uncorked the bottle which the prisoner had brought into the hotel Arthur could not plead yes. He must say no, and he did.

"I drank nothing. I was too busy thinking. I was so busy thinking I wandered all over those links."

"In the blinding snow?"

"Yes, in the snow. What did I care for the snow? I did not understand my sister being in the clubhouse. I did not like it. I was tempted at times to go back."

"And why didn't you?"

"Because I was more of a brute than a brother; because Cuthbert road drew me in spite of myself; because—" He stopped with the first hint of emotion we had seen in him since the morning.

"I did not know what was going on there or I should have gone back," he flashed out, with a defiant look at his counsel.

"When you heard your sister's voice in the clubhouse how did you think she had got into the building?"

"By means of the keys Ranelagh had left at the house."

"When, instead of taking the whole bunch, you took the one key you wanted from the ring did you do so with any idea she might want to make use of the rest?"

"No; I never thought of it. I never thought of her at all."

"You took your one key and let the rest lie?"

"You've said it."

"Was this before or after you put on your overcoat?"

"I'm not sure—after, I think. Yes, it was after, for I remember that I had a deuce of a time unbuttoning my coat to get at my trousers pocket."

"You dropped this key into your trousers pocket?"

"I did."

"Mr. Cumberland, let me ask you to fix your memory on the moments you spent in the hall. Did you put on your hat before you pocketed the key or afterward?"

"My hat? How can I tell? My mind wasn't on my hat. I don't know when I put it on."

"Nor where you took it from?"

"No."

"Whether you saw the keys first and then went for your hat or, having pocketed the key, waited—"

"I did not wait."

"Did not stand by the table thinking?"

"No; I was in too much of a hurry."

"So that you went straight out?"

"Yes, as quickly as I could."

The district attorney paused to be sure of the attention of the jury. When he saw that every eye of that now thoroughly aroused body was on him he proceeded to ask: "Does that mean immediately or as soon as you could after you had made certain preparations or held certain talk with some one you called or who called to you?"

"I called to nobody. I—I went out immediately."

It was evident that he lied; evident, too, that he had little hope from his lie. Uneasiness was taking the place of confidence in his youthful, untried, undisciplined mind. Carmel had spoken to him in the hall—I guessed it then, I knew it afterward—and he thought to deceive this court and blindfold a jury whose attention had been drawn to this point by his own counsel.

District Attorney Fox smiled. "How, then, did you get into the stable?"

"The stable? Oh, I had no trouble in getting into the stable."

"Was it unlocked?"

A slow flush broke over the prisoner's whole face. He saw where he had been landed and took a minute to pull himself together before he replied: "I had the key to that door too. I got it out of the kitchen."

"You have not spoken of going into the kitchen."

"I have not spoken of coming downstairs."

"You went into the kitchen?"

"Yes."

"When?"

"When I first came down."

"This is not in accordance with your direct testimony. On the contrary, you said that on coming downstairs you went straight to the rack for your overcoat. Stenographer, read what the prisoner said on this topic."

A rustling of leaves, distinctly to be heard in the deathlike silence of the room, was followed by the reading of this reply and answer:

"Yet you cannot say which of these two overcoats you put on when you left your home an hour or so after finishing your dinner?"

"I cannot. I was in no condition to notice. I was bent on going into town, and on coming downstairs I went straight to the rack and pulled on the first things that offered."

The prisoner stood immobile, but with a deepening line gathering on his brow, until the last word fell. Then he said: "I forgot. I went for the key before I put on my overcoat. I wanted to see how the sick horse looked."

"Did you drop this key into your pocket too?"

"No; I carried it into the hall."

"What did you do with it there?"

"I don't know. Put it on the table, I suppose."

"Don't you remember? There were other keys lying on this table. Don't you remember what you did with the one in your hand while you took the clubhouse key from the midst of Mr. Ranelagh's bunch?"

"I laid it on the table. I must have—there was no other place to put it."

"Laid it down by itself?"

"Yes."

"And took it up when you went out?"

"Of course."

"Carrying it straight to the stable?"

"Naturally."

"What did you do with it when you came out?"

"I left it in the stable door."

"You did? What excuse have you to give for that?"

"None. I was reckless and didn't care for anything—that's all."

"Yet you took several minutes, for all your hurry and your indifference, to get the stable key and look in at a horse that wasn't sick enough to keep your coachman home from a dance."

The prisoner was silent.

"You have no further explanation to give on this subject?"

"No. All fellows who love horses will understand."

Man a Working Machine.

Man of today is as near a machine as he probably ever can become, and still exist. To keep him in perfect "running order" he has to be treated as such. Now, if your watch or auto had slipped a cog, or was "clogged up" with foreign matter threatening its very existence unless removed, would you apply acid or dope to rid it of foreign matter or to adjust its parts?

—As With Auto and Watch—so with the human body, it gets out of running order through the process of life and needs repairing. No defective machine can turn out good work. Every day that an "unclean" watch or auto, or any other machine is compelled to run, wears seriously its vital parts and saps its vitality. The longer you try to work while the body machinery is out of gear, the greater will be the damage it suffers. Health depends upon the human machine being kept in good mechanical order. Adjustment of the human body is the particular and special work of —The Spaulhurst Osteopaths—That they are expert body mechanicians, know what to do, and how to correctly fix what is mechanically wrong with the body structure is evidenced by kindly expressions of those who have given their treatment a fair trial. They give a little more satisfaction than is expected and make good every promise. They do not claim to perform miracles. Aid nature to health—that's all. LOOKING INTO MANY MATTERS

All Kinds of Investigations On At Washington.

VARIOUS COMMITTEES AT WORK

The Steel Trust, the Department of Justice, the Postoffice Department, the Case of the Alleged Dynamiters and Other Matters Are Today Being Made the Subjects of Inquiry on the Part of Congress.

Washington, May 27.—The Democratic committees of the house engaged in various investigations are making a grand demonstration today. The star proceeding is in progress before the Stanley committee which is inquiring into the affairs of the United States Steel corporation. John W. Gates will appear before the committee to tell what he knows about the merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company with the United States Steel corporation.

Another headline attraction is being staged before the committee on expenditures in the department of justice. Attorney General Wickersham appeared for interrogation by the Democratic committee relative to the work of the department of justice in administering the anti-trust laws.

Victor Berger, the Socialist, appeared before the committee on rules to make an argument for a report on his resolution, which provides for the creation of a special committee to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the arrests of the labor leaders who were charged with complicity in the Los Angeles dynamiting affair.

A representative of the National Manufacturers' association spoke against the Lloyd bill before the house committee on reform in the civil service. The Lloyd bill provides that government employees shall be permitted to organize unions and be accorded the right of "freer speech and action."

Officials of the state, treasury and postoffice departments have been summoned to testify by the three house committees that are inquiring into the operations of the departments named.

Prison Sentence For Former Preacher.

St. Louis, May 27.—Aaron B. Donaldson, former clergyman and later a mine promoter, was found guilty on a charge of obtaining $3,000 in Missouri under false pretenses and sentenced to three years in prison. Donaldson was charged with selling stock in the Mississippi Valley Iron and Furnace company, to James H. Downs, a farmer of Assumption, Ill., it being alleged the land owned by the iron company was encumbered at the time the transaction took place.

ALUMNI RECEPTION

In Gymnasium Friday Evening.—Pleasant Event.

The Alumni Association of the Shields High school held a reception in the gymnasium of the high school building last evening for the classes of 1909, 1910 and 1911. The event was a pleasant one in every respect. An excellent program was rendered, consisting of vocal solos by Miss Lois Reynolds and Prof. H. C. Gast, and a two act comedy drama "A Box of Monkeys" the cast of which was made up of members of the class of 1911. The playlet proved very entertaining to the audience which completely filled the spacious gymnasium. Every member of the cast displayed unusual histrionic ability. After the program a business session was held and officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Don Bollinger, '04; Vice President, Wm. G. Masters, '05; Secretary and treasurer, Miss Amy Roegge, '01. Elegant refreshments were then served and a social time was enjoyed by all.

The Editor's Pulpit.

Lute Taylor, a Wisconsin editor, at a meeting years ago of the State Editorial association, made an address which has recently been unearthed and is going the rounds of the press today. Mr. Taylor was an editor and the wonderful rhetoric of his address is but the reflex of his facile pen. The following is a part of the address:

"The editor stands on the widest pulpit known to modern society. The lawyer has a narrow sphere before him; the senator and representative the walls hedge their voice; the minister has his parish walls about his church. There is a pulpit that now has no limit—it is the press. It is, literally the voice of one that cries in the wilderness; for all across the populous land, the daily papers speak; and there is not a modern civilization, a place of power that can compare with this Rev. DeWitt Talmage once said: 'In the clinking of the printing press I hear the voice of the Lord Almighty proclaiming to all the dead nations of the earth: 'Lazarus! come forth!' and to the retreating surges of the darkness: 'Let there be light.'"
